WESTFIELD TRACK SCANDAL.

CHARGES HEARD BY TROTTING BOARD OF REVIEW.

Time Was Changed to Save Mark of Horse Offences Said to Have Passed Unpunished-Were Choral and Ononda Maid Mixed Up?-Aley Expelled.

How easy it is to be mistaken about the How easy it is to be mistaken about the identity of a horse and how successfully a "ringer" might possibly be worked through under peculiar circumstances were, both suggested at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association, when one of the most intricate and puzzling cases that ever graced a docket came before the board. The case in point, that of the N. T. A. against I. Willard Jones, charged with driving the bay mare Choral, 2:08%, under the name of Ononda Maid, brought out some extraordinary circumstantial evidence and some testimony on each side that was in direct contradiction.

The case was practically completed, but no decision was reached.

The notorious case against the Westfield Trotting Association of Westfield, Mass., was not reached until late in the afternoon, and although only two witnesses for the prosecution were examined, it had pro-gressed far enough by 7:30 o'clock to reveal that it is the most critical and important case before the judges. The case against the black gelding Alcy, 2:19, and her owner, W. E. Ripley of Boston, occupied practically all the forenoon and a decision against Ripley and the horse was rendered.

Yesterday was the second day of the semiannual session of the Board of Review at the Murray Hill Hotel, and it is likely that the meeting will not be completed until Fri-day night, although morning and afternoon sessions are being held. Only four cases were decided yesterday, while the full docket was 500. The coard had no time for an executive meeting, except for a brief time during the noon recess, when the Alcy case and three others were decided. The members were busy from 10 o'clock in the morning until after dark taking testimony. President P. P. Johnston was in the chair, and the other members present were the same as on Tuesday.
The Choral-Ononda Maid case was one in which affidavits were made charging that a horse raced in July at Syracuse, N. Y., and Nashua, N. H., under the name of Ononda Maid was really Choral, 2:06%. It was clearly shown that there are two bay mares that were both being driven on the road at Wellesville, N. Y., last winter that closely resemble each other. Both have some white hairs in the hind legs that were alleged by the prosecution to be distinctive to Chora. I. Willard Jones of Wellesville, N. Y., a trainer. was the driver when the alleged Ononda

GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS.

John Huggins, after a long consultation with William C. Whitney at Westbury yester-day, said that he would probably return to England to train Mr. Whitney's horses for their various stake engagements. He stated that Mr. Whitney's horses leased from Lady Meux and Major Eustis Loder would be in his charge, together with the American thoroughbreds already there. Trainer Hug-gins also intimated that either Goldsmith or Nasturtium, or both, would go to England to start in the Derby, for which both are eligible. While Huggins did not make the direct statement to this effect, he said enough to lead one to believe that he and Mr. Whitney had discussed the matter with favorable results. This disposes of the story in circula-tion the other day that Huggins would retion the other day that Huggins would re-main here and train Mr. Whitney's horses-instead of J. W. Rogers. The latter is con-fined to his home in Westchester, suffering from a kick on the leg, received recently from one of Mr. Whitney's two-year-olds. Rogers will not be incapacitated from handling the Whitney string next year, however. Huggins says that Mr. Whitney's winnings in England last season, counting the vic-tories of his American racers and those leased from Lady Meux and Major Loder, amounted to $185,000. Horsemen who heard the news last night were confident that Goldsmith would surely start in the Derby and that Nasturtium would remain here.

O'HAGEN WINS AT NEW ORLEANS

SENATOR TIM SULLIVAN PROFITS BY HIS VICTORY.

Colt Is Backed Heavily in the Poolrooms -Texas Contingent Brings Off a Good Thing With John Bull-Two Favorites Win but Books Hard Hit.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4 .- Senator Tim Sullivan and Frank Farrell of Tammany Hall won a good-sized fortune over the victory of O'Hagen in the first race here to-day. The colt is owned jointly by Sullivan and Farrell, but is being raced here in the name of Frank Regan. The poolrooms were the ones that were hit, as very little was bet here on the colt by the Sullivan combination.
O'Hagen was wired away in the cipher last night with instructions to get the morning betting on account of his poor showing at Bennings. The out-of-town poolrooms laid as good as 8 to 1 to win and 3 to 1 a place. Sullivan wired Regan shortly before the race that he had bet a few thousand and had

The racing here to-day was the best of the meeting. The crowd was a good-sized one and betting took a big jump. The public one and betting took a big jump. The public only succeeded in picking two winners, but it is doubtful whether the books won, as a number of good things were put over the plate. The biggest surprise of the meeting was the victory of John Bull, the Texas owned gelding in the last race. At one time he was quoted at 100 to 1, but was played down to the last root time.

And the difference of the process theoretical professional discovering the discovering to the decrease of the process of the p
